DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1, 7, 8, and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

3. The term "reduced" in claims 1 and 7 is a relative term which renders the claim indefinite. The term "reduced" is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention. Clarification is required. In claims 1, 7, 8, and 10, it is not clear as to what is meant by "integer fraction" – this appears to be an oxymoron. Clarification is required. In claims 8 and 10, the term "forged" has been interpreted by the Examiner to mean "formed," it this is incorrect, please clarify. The Examiner notes that claims 9 and 11 use the phrase "integer factor" which is clearly interpreted.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Scheirer ("Pulse Tracking with a Pitch Tracker." 1997. MIT Media Laboratory).

Regarding claims 1 and 7, Scheirer discloses the use of a means for dividing an audio input signal into at least two sub-bands (see fig. 2, second page; Note: pages unnumbered) by the use of band pass filters, means of examining the sub-bands with regard to periodicity by an autocorrelation function (fig. 2; page 3, first column, first paragraph), and post-processing the rhythm information to "reduce" ambiguity (the Examiner interprets Scheirer's "clear peak... at lag 0.6 seconds" to imply a reduced ambiguity). As the Applicant acknowledges (specification, page 6, lines 1 – 15), ambiguity will be reduced when an audio signal with a strong rhythmic signature is analyzed (as opposed to, say, a solo vocal melody). Scheirer also discloses a signal portion added at an "integer fraction" of a delay (Scheirer's "lag" is equivalent to Applicant's "delay"), i.e., Scheirer states: "We also see peaks at fractions of this period, which correspond to the faster rhythmic divisions in the signal... as well as multiples of the fractions" (page 3, col. 1, second paragraph, penultimate sentence). Finally, Scheirer discloses the use of plural bands to "establish rhythm information."

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 8 and 10 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Regarding claims 8 and 10, the prior art does not disclose the use of examining the periodicity within an audio signal wherein post-processed raw-information for the audio signal is obtained by adding a version of the rhythm raw-information forged ("forged" is interpreted as "formed") by an integer factor so that a signal portion is added at an integer fraction of a delay to an autocorrelation function peak is associated.

7. Claim 9 and 11 are allowed. Regarding claims 9 and 11, the prior art does not disclose the use of subtracting a version of the rhythm raw-information weighted by a factor unequal to one and spread by an integer factor larger than one.

8. Claims 2 – 6 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims. Regarding claims 2 and 4, the prior art does not disclose spreading rhythm raw-information signal by an integer factor, nor compressing by an integer factor larger than one. Regarding claim 6, the prior art does not disclose evaluating the quality by the use of a significance measure (wherein means for establishing rhythm information by considering the significance measure).

Conclusion

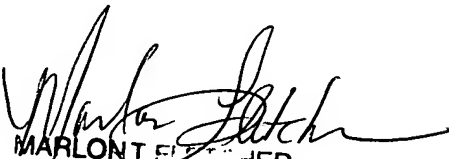

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The document to Weare et al. (20004/0060426) is considered to be of interest regarding autocorrelation functions and audio analysis.
